

AYA KITCHEN'S 2018 TRENDS FORECAST

KNOCK ON WOOD

2018 will see no shortage of wood in the home. Whether you opt for a natural look or a light stain, expect to see colours such as natural oak and country maple as kitchen forerunners.

MAD FOR MELAMINE

For those not ready to take the plunge on the real thing, melamine offers a great alternative to wood through its natural, textured look. Its durability, low-price point and consistency in colour and grain have homeowners flocking to AyA from coast-to-coast.

BLACK OUT

Black is where it's at. Use it as a solid finish paired against light wood for the ultimate contrast.

CROWN JEWELS

This trend is straight from the runway. Cabinetry in jewel tones, such as Midnight Blue or AyA's soon-to-be-launched Wintergreen, are making a huge statement in 2018. Warm up the space with copper and antique brass hardware for a look that feels truly at home.

SHADES OF GREY

Say goodbye to standard grey! This year the spotlight is on grey tones. To keep your space from looking clinical when using white, AyA suggests pairing with softer tones of shale, taupe and clay for the crisp, clean look everyone is after.

SHAKE IT

Shaker style doors will stay king in 2018. Favourited for their transitional style, they're easily paired with bold colours and unexpected finishes for a personalized, modern look.
